EDUCATION LIBRARY SERVICE

Thank you for reading our latest newsletter. If you would like to suggest items for future editions, or share good news stories from your own school (or living room), please do get in contact. Although ELS remains closed, staff can still be contacted via email — educationlibraryservice@cheshiresharedservices.gov.uk — to answer queries and provide advice on all aspects of library or reading provision. You can also follow us on Twitter @CheshireELS where we'll be sharing news and resources, delivering online #ELSStoryTime and craft sessions and setting our own #homelibrary challenges!

LEARNING THROUGH NATURE

If you're looking to get out of the house, or bring a little of the outdoors inside, take a look at the Woodland Trust's suggestions for simple and inexpensive naturebased activities. You could be leading a scavenger hunt or making a toilet roll bird feeder in no time!

Take a break from the screen and become a nature detective with the RSPB's Spot It! activity sheets. You can also learn to build simple homes for nature, like this beetle bucket. Lesson plans here.

While it might not always be possible to see much wildlife from our bedroom windows, the Wildlife Trust's collection of webcams can transport us to some of Britain's most beautiful natural habitats. We recommend "visiting" the peregrine falcon nest cam.

The Scouts have put together a wonderful selection of

എ Scouts

Girlguiding

indoor activities to engage and entertain children, including creating a 'fruit salad solar system'. You can search over 200 activity ideas here. On Saturday 23rd May,

Girlguiding will be hosting, Girlguiding will be hosting, Adventures at Home, their own online festival (for free!). You can view the programme here. With acts involving comedy, science, magic, game design and den building, it promises to be a lot of fun!

Online resources to support children at home and at school

Barrington Stoke, publishers of superreadable, dyslexia-friendly books, have compiled a free homeschooling pack full of advice, information and free resources for parents and carers of children with dyslexia.

Encourage reading for pleasure with these mini-reading challenges. Created by a team of teachers, the challenges are 'underpinned by OU research which shows that reading for pleasure is supported by reading aloud, time to read and to chat about reading in a social environment.'

Author readings, workshops and podcasts

Mac Barnett, writer of picture book classic Sam & Dave Dig a Hole, hosts the brilliantly funny Mac's Book Club Show on IGTV. For a taste of what to expect, check out the "world's first ever live cartoon".

You'll never look at a banana the same way again after dancing along to Michelle Robinson's joyful picture book, The Day the Banana Went Bad. Find more of Michelle's videos here.

Learn to draw with author and illustrator Tom McLaughlin in his YouTube vlog, Doodle Do-It! Tom covers everything from drawing comedy eyebrows to his experience of being a dyslexic author.

Catch up on the fun of this year's Pyjamarama. Highlights include a dance along with the PJ Masks, live drawing session with Chris Riddell and a host of bookish activities to try at home.

Anna James has interviewed an incredible line up of children's writers for her Bookwanderers Club, including Katherine Rundell (The Explorer) and Onjali Q. Rauf (The Boy at the Back of the Class). Watch new interviews live every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 2pm.

BookTrust continues to feature a fantastic array of authors in their Story Time videos. Recent editions include Floella Benjamin reading her classic picture book, My Two Grannies. We especially love Sue Hendra and Paul Linnet's reading of their book, Egg.

Stay at Home Story Time with Oliver Jeffers. The author and illustrator reads his own books, including the ever-popular The Day the Crayons Quit, and discusses the creative process behind them.

Weekly podcast for children created by 11year-old Zoe Giles. Recent episode, 'Finding (Not Losing) the Plot', focuses on helping children to write during the lockdown and features acclaimed children's authors Holly Smale, Ross Welford and Frank Cottrell-Boyce.

For an updated schedule of events visit:

https://www.booktrust.org.uk/books-and-reading/have-some-fun/fun-at-home-with-authors-and-illustrators/

As May is National Share-a-Story Month, there's no better time to pick up a book and share the joy of reading with your family or class. You can find resources relating to this year's theme – 'The Planet we Share' – here. If you need the perfect book to read to a young child, try one of the lovely picture books nominated for the 2020 BookTrust Storytime prize. If you're unable to read the book in person, each author has filmed a video of themselves reading their stories (links below). After watching, we think you'll agree that each book is a gift worth sharing!

Once you've shared a story (or three), how about inspiring children to write their very own! There are loads of great writing competitions for young people to enter, including Authorfy's A Write Laugh and ALCS' Carnegie and Kate Greenaway (CKG) writing competition. For inspiration, check out Chicken House's Create a Story writing challenge – there are tips aplenty from authors like Maz Evans and Christopher Edge. If you're still stuck for ideas, head over to Claude author Alex T. Smith's Twitter page and look for his #StoryStarters prompts. You can also catch up on Authorfy's 10 minute challenges. If you're feeling especially ambitious, try making a miniature book using the British Library's step-by-step guide.

With so much creativity on display, you'll be set for National Writing Day on 24th June. Download resources here.

Public libraries: free eBooks, resources and entertainment

Are you a member of your local public library? Cheshire East Libraries and Cheshire West and Chester Libraries have made it even easier to sign up! You can now register yourself and your family online. Once you've received your library card number, you'll be ready to access a brilliant range of digital resources, including thousands of free eBooks and audiobooks, eMagazines and eResources!

With library buildings closed, public library staff have been working extra hard to deliver family favourites and exciting new projects via their social media pages. For more information about what's on offer, visit Cheshire East Libraries and Cheshire West and Chester Libraries or follow them on Twitter @CECLibraries and @cwaclibraries.

Halton Libraries Warrington Libraries

from Home for kids All available for free on our Facebook Page Tuesday Wednesday Monday A Book I Love A Book I Love Rhymetime Storytime Storytime 10.30am 10.30am 10.30am Thursday Friday Saturday Rhymetime A Book I Love Mini Makers 10.30am STEAM projects Storytime 10.30am 10.30am Lego Challenge 2.30pm

Library

Cheshire East Libraries

If you're struggling to find new books to interest children during the lockdown, why not try downloading a free eBook from your local library? Cheshire West and Chester Public Libraries offer a wide selection of eBooks for children and teenagers, with titles from such popular authors as Julia Donaldson, David Walliams and Malorie Blackman. Books from the Reading Agency's Reading Well for children collection are also available. Loans will automatically return after three weeks so there's no chance of fines. You can even suggest new book titles for the library to purchase!

The Summer Reading Challenge is back and this time... it's digital!

Cheshire East

You can read more about the Challenge, including the Silly Squadbook collection, here. Keep an eye on your library's Facebook page for exciting news about what they have planned! "The Summer Reading Challenge will return for 2020 with a new website, where children aged 4 - 11 can take part in the Challenge and a "Let's Get Silly" virtual launch event that the whole family can enjoy. A whole host of virtual (super silly!) curated events with guest celebrities and authors will take place on Friday 5 June to mark the launch of the new digital Challenge. The website will be free to access, featuring games, quizzes and digital and downloadable activities to incentivise and encourage children and their families to take part in the Challenge at home. Although library buildings are closed, libraries will also continue to deliver the Challenge through virtual services and e-lending platforms."

Useful websites

For more useful links, please see our previous newsletters and the ELS website.

BBC Bitesize (Parents' Toolkit): https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/articles/znsmxyc

Tips on how to support children's physical and emotional wellbeing during the lockdown, including a toolkit of resources for children with special educational needs and disabilities.

ClickView: https://www.clickview.co.uk/free/

Free access to ClickView's most popular educational videos. Supporting resources, such as lesson plans, activities and worksheets, are also available free of charge.

Flying Eye Books: https://flyingeyebooks.com/blog/

Activity packs, family art projects and colouring sheets based on Flying Eye books, such as the One Day on our Blue Planet series and the ever-popular Shackleton's Journey.

Hachette Schools: https://www.hachetteschools.co.uk/

Home learning activities and teaching notes based on a variety of new and popular books. Look out for Hachette's collaboration with Reading Rocks – online lessons are posted every Monday, Wednesday and Friday on the Hachette Schools YouTube channel.

Jolly Phonics: https://www.jollylearning.co.uk/

Support for teachers and parents during the school shutdown, including free access to Jolly Phonic's interactive whiteboard software until 31st July.

The Literacy Company: http://www.theliteracycompany.co.uk/free-resources/

A range of free home learning packs for EYFS to Year 8, focusing on spelling and phonics, writing, and poetry. For further resources follow the Literacy Company's Twitter and Instagram pages.

Love My Books: http://www.lovemybooks.co.uk/

Love My Books is a great resource for finding new books, either to share as a family or to use in the classroom. Each book has its own page of activities and suggested links, with books grouped thematically and by age group.

Off School: https://offschool.org.uk/

Off School is an active online community, containing hundreds of free teacher-created videos, downloadable resources and recommended links to help families and teachers during the shutdown.

The Poetry Society: https://poetrysociety.org.uk/education/learning-from-home/

A growing collection of free poetry resources for teachers, families and students. Lessons plans are searchable by key stage.

Teachit Primary: https://www.teachitprimary.co.uk/

Free access to selected home learning resources. Teachers can also sign up for free individual subscriptions, allowing unlimited access to all content while schools are closed.

